RevCycle Partners Now Supports Eyefinity Optometry Practice Management and EHR Software

The revenue cycle management company now supports optometry practices using Eyefinity

CHICAGO, IL -- RevCycle Partners, a revenue cycle management company serving eye care practices, now supports EyefinityPMS, an optometry practice management and EHR software provider, with its insurance billing services. "Supporting Eyefinity is a natural extension of our Officemate support," says CEO Paul Hartge. "As practices migrate from Officemate to Eyefinity we are excited to be able to support them on their new practice management system." RevCycle Partners, under the leadership of Hartge and Christine Schneider, Vice President of Operations, formally separated from RevolutionEHR/Rev360 in May 2018 and became an independent company with separate ownership. In 2013, RevolutionEHR, the leading cloud-based software for optometrists, launched "RevCycle" as an outsourced billing service for its software customers. The meteoric rise of RevCycle's services prompted the RevolutionEHR/Rev360 senior team to create a new company.

In forming a new company, Hartge and Schneider sought to create continuity in service of RevolutionEHR customers while expanding their vision to become a full-service, revenue cycle management business that serves multiple platforms. Eyefinity is the fifth platform to be added since the spin-off. More additions are in the works.

RevCycle Partners' mission is to fight for what's due for both doctors and patients, creating greater efficiency and contributing to a positive, ongoing doctor-patient relationship.
