

THE HIDDEN COSTS OF AN IN-HOUSE BILLER

For many eye care practices, it makes financial sense to outsource their insurance billing.

The math seems simple enough.

You get a quote for outsourcing your insurance billing. You compare it with what you're paying your part-time biller. Outsourcing seems a bit more expensive.

But is it, really?

5 Hidden Costs

- 1 Did you add in the extra cost for covering your biller while he or she is on vacation or out sick?
- 2 Did you add in expense of the time it takes to hire and then train a new biller when your old one goes on maternity leave or decides to quit right before your vacation?
- 3 Did you add in overhead costs for payroll taxes and any benefits you provide?
- 4 Did you add in uniformed write-offs because your biller gave up pursuing the claim?
- 5 Did you add the lost claims due to timely filing because your biller forgot to submit the claim?

Savings by Outsourcing

- For some practices, outsourcing to RevCycle Partners lowers the fully loaded costs for an insurance biller by up to 25%.
- Costs vary for different sized practices. Those providing full-time benefits to their employees may find even more reduced costs by outsourcing.
- Is it time to outsource your insurance billing?
